

Nebraska Eye Institute Receives Recognition

Recently, Nebraska Eye Institute was chosen as a Peak Performer in the Vision Source organization. What does this mean? Let us explain! Over 2300 privately owned practices throughout the United States belong to Vision Source. The Vision Source network believes that eye health is best provided by an independent family eye doctor. These practicing optometrists have access to the shared knowledge and resources of more than 4000 eye doctors that make up Vision Source. Nebraska Eye Institute is only one of seven across the nation chosen as a PEAK PERFORMER! The other six clinics are located in Colorado, Kansas, Texas, Ohio, Washington, and North Carolina.

In order to be considered for this dubious honor, an optometric practice had to be nominated by a Vision Source Administrator. From these nominations, seven were selected. Dr. Rienks is noted for his openness to change and his willingness to acquire cutting edge technology. He is often pursued by other Vision Source doctors for his knowledge in the technological field and treatment plans that come from the diagnostic assessments.

Thank you patients for making this honor possible! Congratulations to Dr. Rienks and his staff for this notable recognition!
